BOOMBOOM PRESENTS***

October 13, 2008--New York City, one of the most multicultural cities in the world, will serve as the fitting backdrop for the first annual Sulha Benefit Concert for Peace on Nov. 8. Sulha is a non-profit organization working to develop a culture of peaceful co-existence and equality amongst Israelis, Arabs, Jews and Muslims. The concert, centered around Sulha's founder Gabriel Meyer Halevy, will celebrate these efforts and bring together a group of ethnically and religiously diverse musicians and speakers from all over the world including acclaimed actress Debra Winger, Sulha Peace Project founder Gabriel Meyer Halevy, Rumi poetry expert Coleman Barks, Oscar-nominated actor and Broadway producer Ronald Guttman, and world-renown musicians Hassan Hakmoun, Vishal Vaid and Karsh Kale. Interfaith blessings will be given by spiritual figurehead Gabriel Cousens MD, who launched the acclaimed Tree of Life Center, Rabbi Marcelo Bronstein from the Congregation Bnai Jeshurun, Pastor Sara Pugh of the Church of St. Paul and St. Andrew, esteemed scholar Dr. Abdulaziz Sachedina - the Francis Myers Ball Professor of Religious Studies at the University of Virginia and renown scholar in Islamic law and theology. The event will be produced by two of New York City's most well-respected figures in the global music scene, Fabian Alsultany and Brice Rosenbloom

Other musicians who will participate in the day's unique cross-cultural collaborations include a mix of NY and international artists and speakers including Haale (singer), Morley (singer), Amen (Gabriel Meyer and Amir Paiss's band rooted in Israel), Basya Schecter (lead singer of Pharaohs Daughter), Carol C (lead singer of the band Si*Se), Jamshied Sharifi (composer/keyboard player), Shahid Habib (singer), and internationally acclaimed healer Parashakti (presenter).

Founded seven years ago by musician Gabriel Meyer and peace activist Elias Jabbour and using the indigenous process of mediation ("Sulha") as its core teachings, the Sulha Peace Project hosts an annual three-day gathering that integrates listening circles, multi-cultural workshops, sacred interfaith rituals, shared meals, and the arts, from Arab and Jewish traditions. They appeal to a broad cross-section of Israeli and Palestinian society, secular and religious. Hosting an annual three-day gathering The Sulha Peace Project has also been praised by world renown leaders such as the Dalai Lama and Bishop Desmond Tutu for its effective ideas in promoting peace in the Middle East.
