

MUSLIM LEADERS OF TOMORROW

Ndeye Andujar, Vice President of Catalan Islamic Council in Spain, works both in media and education. She has published many newspaper articles (in Spanish and French), and often participates in radio interviews and TV debate. She is also a university coordinator and teaches a course entitled, Expert in Islamic Religion and Culture, at the Public National Spanish University. She has also written papers for the INJUVE, the official guide for young members of the Spanish ministry, and for the Spanish journal of pedagogy, revista Bordón de Pedagogía. She has also contributed to an immigrant guide of the European Council.

Ndeye has participated in many conferences on Islamic feminism in Spain and Belgium. She is currently working on her first book, Viaje por el Islam femenino (Journey of feminine Islam) which will be published this year.
