Summer Internship Program 2009
(July 6 – August 14)

The International Institute of Islamic Thought (IIIT) is pleased to announce its Summer Internship Program for 2009, which will run for six weeks between July 6 and August 14, 2009. The program is designed for senior undergraduate and graduate students who are majoring in the humanities or social science disciplines and who have a particular interest in developing their knowledge and research skills in the core areas of Islamic studies such as Quran, Hadith, Fiqh and Islamic History and Civilization and acquiring training in subjects ranging from Islamic finance to faith based entrepreneurship to non-profit management and research methods for Islamic studies.

During the course of the program, students would complete a total of 200 hours of directed research, instruction and administrative work at IIIT and would receive a certificate of completion from IIIT.

Accommodation for out-of-area students will be provided by IIIT, if needed. In addition, IIIT will pay each a scholarship of $1,200 to cover their living and other expenses and to be paid on a biweekly basis.

Students should have their own health insurance coverage. IIIT does not provide health – or any other form of – insurance to students.

Those interested should fill in the attached application form and send it with a bio and a recent transcript no later than April 15, 2009 to the following address:
